

Dr. Biswajit Maiti has completed his Graduation and Master degree in Physics from Calcutta University and Burdwan University respectively in the year 1988 and 1990. He has been awarded PhD by Jadavpur University in 1996 for his work on Semiconductor Technology at the Dept. of Materials Science, Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science. He has worked for two years as CSIR Research Associate at Central Glass & Ceramic Research Institute on Fuel Cell Technology before joining West Bengal Education Service. He has been serving different Government Colleges of West Bengal for almost twenty years.

At present he is an Associate Professor of Physics at Maulana Azad College, Kolkata. He has more than 40 research publications in International Journals and Conferences. His present interest of research is in the field of Physics of Low-dimensional Semiconductor Devices; Quantum Information Theory.